

PERMISSIONS NOTE:

The crate that is delivered is the product. It has transfer only permissions. Textures and artwork are the property of AJ Leibengeist in both virtual and real world. The Thunderchild Gallery Workshop (TCGWS) is the main site in Second Life.

Decorative crates are sold as transfer only objects. They contain a set of textures (22 max), a texture menu script, and a removable resize script. While both scripts are inside, they will pop up on top of each other.

The crate textures are made from in-shop elements and art sets. The Mesh Crate is made by T-3D. I've made a few more templates and masks for texture work with this item. These images and the collection of crate textures are available at AJ's Texture Gallery in Milda. You can request a custom set of textures for a crate.

I resale the crate with either modify/copy or modify and transfer permissions. For full permissions crates, purchase it directly from T-3D.

Multi object packages come in a decorative crate. These are either copy only or transfer only packaging crates. They contain other products and have no textures or scripts for themselves. If there is a label, it will have a blank transparent option.
