

RLSL Info Board

The board provides URL or Slurl links for the following.

- * SL Marketplace
- * Artist's Homepage, Thunderchild.net
- * Relative artwork's homepage
- * On-line stores with RL products

I have products in both Second Life (SL) and Real Life (RL). You cannot buy RL goods in SL or vice versa, but I can provide you with information between the two.

All my work is my copyright and intellectual property (IP) except where noted. Example, Van's shoes has all the rights and royalties for my designs per Custom Culture competition rules, thus I get nothing when they sell one. But I do recommend them.

Second Life products for artwork textures and basic goods are created by me. Example, box of textures or a box of artwork textures on a prim. Mesh goods such as clothing are generally a 3rd-party product. The Inventory management between the CasperVend and the SL Marketplace are better defined in the current rework. The SL organization helps with the management of the RL Virtual Store Fronts (VSF) and creativity for SL and RL products.

I use on-line on-demand product sites such as RedBubble.com or spoonflower.com for on-demand products. The products and service are excellent quality. The images used for RL goods are the ones used for SL. Should you see something from either world and want it in the other, feel free to ask me.

I'm looking at Amazon for the sales of the RL original and limited reproduction artwork.

Feel free to contact me with question, comments or requests.

AJ

